Signs Still Follow True Believers

Excerpts from article By Dr. Fred Childs

How About Your Faith?

In spite of anything God has ever done do you still find it difficult to trust Him? If Elijah had not been convinced of rain he would never have sent his servant to look for an approaching cloud. God still needs someone to be an Elijah. Could the next one be you?

It is easier to simply that happen than it is uses to work through. their faith in God say- things like to be the one God Many people limit because they are thinking of themselves. They are concerned about what others might think of them if things don't happen like they said. They are afraid they will step out on a limb and nothing will happen. An essential element in being used of God is to quit thinking and simply respond by faith. When you pause to think you override faith. This is not about you. This is about God. Signs follow our actions of faith. They do not lead the way, but they follow after us. God searches for people who will trust Him enough to obey and leave the results to God.

Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, and today, and forever. He is still the Savior, healer, and deliverer. The people that know Him shall be strong and do exploits (Daniel 11:28). Few things will renew your faith and excitement like a fresh testimony of personal faith. There is everything to gain and nothing to lose. God wants to do great things through your faith as well. I encourage you to earnestly contend for the faith that was once delivered unto the saints (Jude3). Signs still do follow true

WOW What's For Lunch?

by Sis. Amy Hanna

I heard an amazing story this past weekend from Sis. Wendell about her work in Ethiopia with the lepers. She challenged us to recognize the "lepers" in our world, and to reach out to them with Unconditional love: The love of Jesus Christ!

So, today-I was in a restaurant during lunch and a man came in whose face was badly injured. I overheard him telling the waitress of how he was recently attacked, and was in severe pain from the injury. I felt so compelled to him because I personally understand facial injuries and the pain that comes with that. Also, I kept hearing Sis. Wendell's message ringing in my ears of how we cannot really love God until we learn to love people, and to be compassionate toward them-no matter how "ugly" they may be.

Finally-I could take it no more, and I got up and went over to the man, introduced myself to him, and asked him if I could pray for him. He said "yes-PLEASE do-I have been praying every since I was attacked. " If it wasn't for God's mercy I would be dead." I very quietly took his hand and began to pray. But he was NOT quiet about it at all. He began to pray aloud-calling on God. When I opened my eyes-everyone in the place was standing with us with either bowed heads, hands raised, or tears flowing down their faces. Everyone had come out of the kitchen, and all the workers were standing in reverence. IT was so powerful how the place. As I turned to walk stopped me with their Lord's presence filled that away...several people own prayer requests.

I am so glad I serve a God who's power is not confined to the walls of a church building-but He will respond wherever and whenever he is called on! Everywhere a Christian walks-is a mission field. I want to always be sensitive to the needs of others, and I want to always offer HOPE to everyone that I meet. God will work-WHO will LET Him?
